CERTIFICATE OF TEACHING EFFECTIVENESS

Dr. Cristhian Andrés Rodríguez Revilla

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:
This document certifies the teaching record and effectiveness of Dr. Cristhian Andrés Rodríguez Revilla during his tenure at the Universidad del Rosario (Bogotá, Colombia). The data presented herein is based on official institutional records, encompassing student evaluations, class sizes, and pedagogical contributions.

I. EMPLOYMENT HISTORY & STATUS

Dr. Rodríguez Revilla's affiliation with the university spans two distinct phases, interrupted by an authorized leave for doctoral studies:

- Jul 2016 – Apr 2024: Full-Time Faculty (Profesor de Planta).
  Note: The professor was on an authorized unpaid leave of absence from Nov 2017 to Dec 2021 to pursue his Ph.D. studies abroad.
- Feb 2015 – May 2016: Adjunct Lecturer (Profesor Catedrático).
  External lecturer hired per academic term.
- 2014 – 2016: Young Researcher (Joven Investigador). Research Assistantship focused on quantitative economics projects. Contract Modality: Service Agreement (Prestación de Servicios).

II. QUALITATIVE FEEDBACK & PEDAGOGICAL IMPACT

Beyond numerical scores, student comments consistently highlighted specific teaching attributes appropriate to each stage of Dr. Rodríguez's career:

Foundational Years (2015-2016): Students frequently cited his energy, dedication, and passion for the subject matter. Common descriptors included "committed" and "concerned with student learning."

Course Innovation (2016-2017): Upon designing the Quantitative Methods in Finance pilot, feedback emphasized the course's practicality and rigor. Students described the instructor as "knowledgeable," "dominating the subject," and the course as "challenging but realistic."

Advanced Teaching (2022-2024): In his most recent evaluations, feedback evolved to highlight empathy, clarity, and expertise. Phrases such as "highly skilled (crack)," "patient," and "excellent explanations" were recurrent across both undergraduate and graduate levels.

III. QUANTITATIVE SUMMARY OF TEACHING EVALUATIONS

The evaluations at Universidad del Rosario are conducted anonymously by students on a scale of 1.0 to 5.0 (where 5.0 is "Excellent"). The following table summarizes Dr. Rodríguez's performance across key courses.

Period	Course Name	Level	Credits*	Students	Rating	Variance
Phase 1: Adjunct Lecturer
2015 - I	Advanced Econometrics	Graduate	4	25	4.30	0.50

Note: (i) Variance refers to the statistical dispersion, representing differences in student's perspectives. (ii) Academic periods are distributed in two (I, II) known as semesters. (*) Credits information placeholder. () Variance calculation based on standard deviation. To facilitate international equivalency, the academic workload at Universidad del Rosario follows the Colombian Ministry of Education standards (Decree 1075): One (1) Academic Credit is equivalent to 48 hours of total academic work by the student per academic period.

IV. ADDITIONAL ACADEMIC SERVICE

- Curriculum Development: Led the design, creation, and pilot launch of the undergraduate course Quantitative Methods in Finance (2016), bridging the gap between theory and labor market demands.
- External Recognition: Selected by students to serve as a Jury Member for the Econometrics section of the Concurso Académico Nacional de Economía (CANE), a prestigious national competition involving public and private universities across Colombia.

CERTIFICATION OF TEACHING

To whoever it may concern:

This letter is to certify that Cristhian Andrés Rodriguez Revilla taught a 4 hour course in the Master in Business and Finance (MRes/PhD courses) in September 2018. The course consisted of an introduction to empirical work with Stata and R. Students were happy with the course and it provided them with a basic understanding of the software that was later put to use in the empirical applications in subsequent courses. He did a great job and I would ask him to do it again.

Yours sincerely,

José S. Penalva Zuasti
